

TOTE IRELAND BETTING RULES

WIN

Win betting involves selecting the horse that you think will finish first past the post. You can place a Win bet on all Irish and UK racing with the Tote. It is one of the most popular Tote bet's as it is very simple. Some people just pick the favourite (horse with the shortest price) however, often an outsider with a bigger price can cross the line first, giving you more value for your Win bet.

Tote pool dividends are displayed as decimals. Whilst it may differ from traditional fractional odds, decimal odds simply mean that your stake is included in your return. Making it easier for you to calculate your winnings. For example if you place a €20 Win bet on a horse that is displaying a Tote price of €6.30 and the horse wins, you will be paid €126.

Win Betting Rules

Dead Heats

If two horses dead heat for first, the win pool is divided in half. The dividends are then calculated by dividing each half by the number of units on the dead heating horses.

Withdrawn Horses

If your horse has been withdrawn under starters orders before the "off" of the race and the Tote has received such information your bet is void and shall be refunded to you.

PLACE

The aim of a Place bet is to select a horse to be placed in the race, a good bet when you fancy a horse but you think it is unlikely to win. As it is easier to pick a placed horse the Tote dividends are slightly reduced. You will find the projected Place dividend displayed on screen beside the Win dividend on course and here online.

Place betting is available on all races with 5 or more runners. However, the number of places that the Tote pays depends on the number of runners:

Places paid on Irish racing:

No. Of Runners	Places
1-4	No Place Betting
5-7	2 Places - 1st or 2nd
8-15	3 Places - 1st, 2nd or 3rd
16+ Handicap Races	4 Places - 1st, 2nd, 3rd or 4th

Please note that the payment of 4th place on Irish racing is only available now on HANDICAP RACES with 16 or more runners.

FORECAST

A Straight Forecast involves selecting the 1st and 2nd horses home in the correct order. You can place a Forecast bet on all races with 3 or more runners. Whilst, for many, the Forecast is a challenging bet it does offer greater returns than straight win and place betting. The Forecast certainly has the potential for a big payout whilst only placing a small stake.

A Straight Forecast on horses 2 and 5 means that horse 2 must come home first and horse 5 must come in second for you to win.

TRIO

The Trio involves you selecting the 1st, 2nd and 3rd horses home in the correct order. This bet is available with the Tote on all races with 8 or more declared runners. The Trio is the ideal bet in big runner fields when you fancy a few horses. As it can be slightly harder to select three horses home, the payouts are often very high.

If the Trifecta pool is not won on a race, the pool will now roll over to the 6th race on the day.

DAILY DOUBLE

The Daily Double involves picking the winning horses of races 5 and 6 at any Irish race meeting. Your Daily Double must be placed before the “off” of race 5. You can pick just one horse in each of the two races to win, or you can pick a selection of horses to further your chances of winning.

Make sure to keep an eye out for Daily Double rollovers. If there is no winner of the Daily Double the pool rolls over to the next Irish meeting.

DAILY DOUBLE BETTING RULES

1. Daily Double Pool Refunded - A backer having purchased a Double ticket shall not be entitled to a refund of his stake or any part thereof except where none of the Daily Double races are run at a meeting when the pool will be declared void and all stakes shall be refunded in full.
2. Daily Double Non Runner and/or Withdrawn Horse(s) - Should any horse in the first or the second race of the Daily Double be declared non-runners or withdrawn, before the running of the first race, all money wagered on combinations including such horse shall be deducted from the Double Pool and shall be refunded upon presentation and surrender of tickets sold thereon. Should any horse in the second race of the Daily Double be declared a non-runner or withdrawn after the running of the first race of the Daily Double, a consolation pool will result. In such case, all tickets combining the non-runner(s) or withdrawn horse(s) with the actual winner of the first race shall become consolation tickets and shall be paid a dividend per unit stake determined as follows: the net Daily Double Pool shall be divided by the total purchase price of all Daily Double tickets designating the winner of the first race of the Daily Double and the result obtained shall constitute the consolation price per unit stake. The amount set aside for these consolation dividends will be deducted from the net Daily Double Pool.
3. Daily Double: Races Not Run - If one of the Daily Double races at any race meeting be, for any reason, not run, not won, declared void or postponed to another race meeting, each horse selected by the backer in the Daily Double for such race shall be deemed as a winning horse and the remaining race or races will be deemed to form the Daily Double Pool at that meeting.
4. Daily Double Carry Forward - Where there are no winning combinations in the Daily Double at a meeting, the net pool will be carried forward and added, either in whole or in such parts as Tote Ireland may determine, to the net pool at such subsequent race meeting or race meetings as may be determined by the Manager in accordance with the directives of Tote

Ireland and the amount of the net pool at that meeting shall be increased accordingly.

5. Daily Double Dividend - In a Daily Double Pool, the dividend will be calculated by dividing the net pool by the number of unit bets on the winning combination.
6. Daily Double Dead Heat - In the event of a dead heat for first place, all the horses dead heating will be deemed equal winning horses and correct combinations containing selections of any horses dead heating will be entitled to the same dividend.

PICK 4 (JACKPOT)

You must pick the winners of races 3, 4, 5 and 6. Perhaps one of the trickier Tote bets, however, it is also one of the most rewarding. Your Pick 4 (Jackpot) bet must be placed before the "off" of race 3. The Pick 4 (Jackpot) dividend is reflective of the number of favourites that win each race. Ideally, the less favourites that win the bigger your dividend will be.

Calculating the cost of your Jackpot bet is straightforward. Multiply the number of horses you pick in each race by one another. This will give you the number of units you have. Then multiply this figure by your selected stake.

In the instance when there is no winner of the Jackpot, the total pool is rolled over to the next selected race meeting.

Non-Runners and withdrawn horses are transferred to the SP Favourite or in the case of joint favourites the runner with the lowest race card number.

Pick 6

The Tote Pick Six involves picking the winners of six consecutive races, which are always races 1 to 6. The Pick Six must be placed before the "off" of race 1. This challenging bet will reap significant rewards.

Calculating the cost of your Pick Six bet is straightforward. Multiply the number of horses you pick in each race by one another. This will give you the number of units you have. Then multiply this figure by your selected stake. For example:

In the instance where there is no winner of the Tote Pick Six, the total pool is rolled over to the next applicable race meeting.

Non-Runners and withdrawn horses are transferred to the SP Favourite or in the case of joint favourites the runner with the lowest race card number.

Pick 6 Betting Rules

1. Tote Pick Six Unit Stake - The Unit Stake in a Tote Pick Six Pool shall be €1.00

2. Tote Pick Six No Refunds - All monies staked in a Tote Pick Six Pool shall be staked on an "All in Run or Not" basis, except as provided for in Conditions (4) and (5) of these Conditions and notwithstanding any error or omission in the said racecard or in any list of "declared" or "probable" runners published or announced at the racemeeting; or the withdrawal of any horse from a race for which it has been declared as a runner in accordance with the rules governing the races, no person who shall have staked money in a Tote Pick Six Pool will be entitled to a refund of his stake or any part thereof for any reason whatsoever.
3. Tote Pick Six Pool Refunded - A backer having purchased a Tote Pick Six ticket shall not be entitled to a refund of his stake or any part thereof except where none of the Tote Pick Six races is run at a meeting when the pool will be declared void and all stakes shall be refunded in full.
4. Tote Pick Six Non-runner and/or Withdrawn Horse - Any Tote Pick Six ticket issued which contains the racecard number of any horse in any of the Tote Pick Six races which, subsequent to the issue of said ticket, is declared to be a Non-runner or a Withdrawn horse shall be deemed to contain, in lieu of the racecard number of such horse or horses so declared, the racecard number of the Starting Price Favourite as defined in these Conditions. If no Starting Prices are returned before the "All Right" (or if no information regarding Starting Prices has been received by the Manager before the "All Right") then the ticket shall be deemed to contain the Tote Favourite as defined in these Conditions. When this provision of these Conditions is applied, no subsequent event shall have any effect whatsoever.
5. Tote Pick Six Races Not Run - If one or more of the Tote Pick Six races at any meeting be, for any reason, not run, not won, declared void or postponed to another racemeeting, each horse selected by a backer in the Tote Pick Six for such race or races shall be deemed as a winning horse and the remaining race or races will be deemed to form the Tote Pick Six Pool at that meeting.
6. Tote Pick Six Carry Forward - Where there are no winning combinations in the Tote Pick Six at a meeting, the net pool will be carried forward and added, either in whole or in such parts as Tote Ireland may determine, to the net pool at such subsequent racemeeting or racemeetings as may be determined by the Manager in accordance with the directives of Tote Ireland and the amount of the net pool at that meeting shall be increased accordingly.
7. The Tote Manager shall in all cases be the final arbiter on the destination of Tote Pick Six rollovers and his decision shall be final on all occasions.
8. Tote Pick Six Dividend - In a Tote Pick Six Pool, the dividend will be calculated by dividing the net pool by the number of unit bets on the winning combination.
9. Tote Pick Six Dead Heat - In the event of a dead heat for first place, all the horses dead heating will be deemed equal winning horses and correct combinations containing selections of any of the horses dead heating will be entitled to the same dividend.

Condition 17 - Tote Win Pool

(1) Win Dividend - In a Win Pool the dividend will be calculated by dividing the net pool by the number of unit bets on the winning horse. If two or more horses dead heat for first place, the dividend for the win dead heat will be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat. The dividends shall then be calculated by dividing each part by the number of units on the dead heating horse to which it refers.

(2) Dead Heat for Win (Winning Horse Unbacked) .If there is a dead heat for a win and no winning bet upon one or more of the horses running the dead heat, the net pool will be divided on the same principle as 17(1) between the backers of the horses on which bets were made.

(3) Winning Horses Unbacked: If there is no bet on the winning horse, or in the case of a dead heat if there is no bet on any of the winning horses, all bets in the pool shall be refunded.

(1) Place Dividend General - In a race in which a Place Pool is operated, the dividend will be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be equally divided into four parts in a Four Place Pool or three parts in a Three Place Pool or two parts in a Two Place Pool. Each part will be allocated to one of the placed horses and sub divided by the number of unit bets on the horse to which it refers.

In any place pool where the above calculation results in dividend spendings exceeding the total amount staked in that place pool the place dividends shall be calculated as follows:

The amount staked on each of the placed horses will be deducted from the total amount staked in the place pool. A deduction of such amount as may be determined by Tote Ireland from time to time, subject to the Regulations, will be made from the losing bets.

The resultant figure will be equally divided into four parts in a Four Place Pool or three parts in a Three Place Pool or two parts in a Two Place Pool. Each part will be allocated to one of the placed horses and subdivided by the number of unit bets on the horse to which it refers. The value of the unit bet will be added to the resultant figure in order to arrive at the dividend to be paid out.

(2) Two Place Pool: Two Horses Dead Heat for First Place. If two horses dead heat for first place in a race on which a Two Place Pool is operated, the dividend will be calculated in the same manner as if there were no dead heat.

(3) Two Place Pool: Two Horses Dead Heat for Second Place. If one horse is awarded first place and two or more horses dead heat for second place in a race on which a Two Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into two equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second part will be divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for second place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating second place.

(4) Two Place Pool: More Than Two Horses Dead Heat For First Place. If more than two horses dead heat for first place in a race on which a Two Place Pool is operated, the method of calculation shall be the same as in a win dead heat. See Condition 17(1).

If three horses dead heat for first place or one horse is awarded first place and two horses dead heat for second place or two horses dead heat for first place and one horse is awarded third place in a race on which a Three Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated in the same manner as if there were no dead heat.

(6) Three Place Pool: More than Two Horses Dead Heat for Second Place. If one horse is awarded first place and more than two horses dead heat for second place in a race on which a Three Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into three equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second and third parts will be added together and resultant divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for second and third place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating horses.

(7) Three Place Pool: Two or More Horses Dead Heat for Third Place. If two or more horses dead heat for third place in a race on which a Three Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into three equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second part will be divided by the units staked on the second placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for second place. The third part will be divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for third place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating third place.

(8) Three Place Pool: Four or More Horses Dead Heat for First Place. If more than three horses dead heat for first place in a race on which a Three Place Pool is operated, the method of calculation shall be the same as in a win dead heat. See Condition 17(1).

(10) Four Place Pool: Five or More Horses Dead Heat for First Place. If more than four horses dead heat for first place in a race on which a Four Place Pool is operated, the method of calculation shall be the same as in a win dead heat. See Condition 17(1).

(11) Four Place Pool: More than Three Horses Dead Heat for Second, Third and Fourth Places. If one horse is awarded first place and more than three horses dead heat for second, third and fourth places in a race on which a Four Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into four equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second, third and fourth parts will be added together and resultant divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for second, third and fourth place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating horses.

(12) Four Place Pool: Three or More Horses Dead Heat for Third and Fourth Places. If three or more horses dead heat for third and fourth place in a race on which a Four Place Pool is operated, the dividend shall be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into four equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second part will be divided by the units staked on the second placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for second place. The third and fourth parts will be added together and resultant divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for third and fourth place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating horses.

(13) Four Place Pool: Two or More Horses Dead Heat for Fourth Place. If two or more horses dead heat for fourth place in a race on which a Four Place Pool is operated, the dividend will be calculated as follows:

The net pool will be divided into four equal parts. The first part will be divided by the units staked on the first placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for first place. The second part will be divided by the units staked on the second placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for second place. The third part will be divided by the units staked on the third placed horse (full winner) to arrive at a dividend for third place. The fourth part will be divided into as many equal parts as there are horses that have run the dead heat for fourth place and said equal parts divided by the units staked on each dead heating horse to arrive at dividends for dead heating horses.

(14) All Placed Horses Unbacked. If there is no bet on all of the placed horses in the race, all bets shall be refunded.
